

My Business Vision in Pictures

NOTE: All images in this file are stock photos. No photographs of DA or BDA members have been included.

What I do to serve the world

I help stressed-out working mothers relax their nervous systems with sustainable self-care habits so they can feel strong, centered, empowered and supported in all the chaos.

Who I serve

I serve busy, stressed-out working mothers (and their families) to feel better & sleep better by putting themselves on the list of people to care for.

What I receive in return for my service

I receive more than enough money to meet all my needs now and in the future. I receive so much abundance, joy & prosperity into my life that I laugh & dance & feel content everyday.

Thank you, thank you,
thank you, loving and
generous Higher Power!

This or something even better.

And thank you unsplash.com for all the fabulous free photos.